

* A functional capacity assessment is carried out when a role requires a reasonable amount of physical activity (greater than or equal to 10% of the working day) and/or visual or audio acuity requirements. The purpose is to assess an applicant's ability to carry out the necessary physical requirements of the role and/or what modifications would be required to enable that person to undertake the job. The test is undertaken by a qualified allied health professional.

The Inherent Physical Requirements Matrix will be attached to the Role Statement if relevant to the role.
